Breaks Ground for New Methodist Church

Mrs. Lillie Herschbach, oldest living active member of the Frankfort Methodist church turned the first spadeful of earth at the ground breaking ceremonies conducted last Sunday, Nov. 25, for the $165,000 new church that is to be erected at Sauk Trail and Linden drive. Another picture is on an inside page. At the extreme right is the pastor of the church, the Rev. Ben Day.

Fined $100 for Crowding School Bus Off Road

Eldon Frank Jeffries, 22, of Lincoln Estates, was released from the Will county jail last Friday after he had paid a fine of $100 and costs imposed on that date for improper passing of a loaded school bus.

His action crowded the bus and a concrete mix truck off the highway, it was charged, endangering the lives of 46 Lincoln-Way students aboard the bus as well as the drivers of the vehicles.

The incident occurred late Monday afternoon on U.S. Route 30, about a quarter mile west of the junction of Routes 30 and 45. Burnett Schram, driver of the school bus and A. Hunter Chapman, superintendent of Lincoln-Way high school, went to the office of Sheriff Roy C. Doerfler in Joliet Tuesday and filed a complaint. They obtained a warrant from Justice of the Peace Anthony Mackay and Jeffries was arrested—Thanksgiving morning and taken to the county jail. Unable to post bond he remained in jail until arraigned Friday morning when after a plea of guilty was fined $100 and costs by Justice of the Peace Mackay. But it was later in the day that he was able to raise the money for the fine and was released.

According to witnesses there were three cars following the school bus, east bound on Route 30, and Jeffries passed the lot but the bus and the approaching truck had to leave the road in order to avoid a crash.

Jeffries has been arrested previously, according to records at the sheriff's office. He was arrested a couple of years ago on a charge of creating a disturbance at Lincoln-Way high school and only recently was fined $20 for a traffic violation in Mokena, authorities said.

Skeletons of prehistoric man give evidence that tuberculosis found its way into cave homes just as it invades modern ranch houses and apartments.

Loses Finger, Part of Another While Playing

Due to an accident which occurred Nov. 17, at his farm home, doctors at Silver Cross hospital, Joliet, found it necessary to remove the middle finger and the end of the index finger of the left hand of Robert Heinecke, 11, last Saturday.

Robert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Heinecke, of Township Line rd., has been in the hospital since a rock inadvertently fell on his hand while playing in an improvised playhouse on the grounds of his home.

Dr. P. T. Demus, of Mokena, who attended the youth, found the bones were too badly crushed to save the fingers. The boy was expected to return home from the hospital yesterday.

Garland Knipple Dies Suddenly

Garland Knipple, 56, of Frankfort, an employee of the maintenance of way department of the EJ&E railroad, dropped dead Monday afternoon while working on the tracks between Matteson and Park Forest in Cook county. He was stricken about 1:10 o'clock, apparently with a coronary attack.

Fellow employees attempted to aid him while waiting for an inhalator from Park Forest and a doctor. An inhalator was used but efforts to revive him were unsuccessful. It was believed that Mr. Knipple died instantly.

He was the son of the late Henry and Ida Claussen Knipple of Frankfort. Mr. Knipple was born in Frankfort and resided there, by himself, in what had been his parents' home on Maple street.

Besides a sister, Mrs. Lenora Dolton, and a niece, Betty Jane Dolton, of Chicago Heights, Mr. Knipple is survived by an uncle William Knipple, of Frankfort.

He had been employed by the "J" for many years.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon (Nov. 29) at 2 o'clock from the Hirsch chapel at Tinley Park with Alfred Zechlin of Frankfort, in charge. The Rev. Erich Bizer will officiate and burial is to be in Pleasant Hill cemetery, Frankfort.

Mokena Voters to Decide on Sewers at Special Referendum

Civic Association Sets Dec. 21 As Date for Mokena Yule Party

The annual Christmas party for the children of the Mokena area is to be held the evening of Dec. 21 at the usual place on Front street.

The time will be 7:30 o'clock and all the youngsters in the community are invited.

The Mokena Civic Association will be host and has made special arrangements with Santa Claus so that he will be there in person.

Christmas carols will be sung around the big, lighted and decorated community tree. Glenn Meirs, who teaches music in the Mokena grade school, will conduct the singing.

Marion Owen is chairman of the committee in charge. Other members of the committee are Harley Mann, Stanley Williams, and Mrs. George H. Bills.

Announcement also was made that the home decoration and tree lighting contest will be held again this year. Ray Hoolehan, chairman, said there will be three cash prizes plus three certificates for those receiving honorable mention.

First prize will be $15; second prize, $10 and third prize, $5.

Further details will be announced later.

Morris Larson Sells Tavern

After 23 years in business Morris Larson has sold his tavern on Front street, in Mokena, and for the next several months, at least, intends to travel and rest.

The purchaser is James Surovich, who resides on Carpenter st., in Mokena. Surovich bought the building, which includes an apartment on the second floor, as well as the business.

Mr. and Mrs. Larson, who lived in the building, moved out last week-end. They will stay with a son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cundiff, until after the holidays. They will then go to California to visit Mrs. Larson's sister, Mrs. William Pierce, at Hayworth.

Mrs. Larson indicated they would return to Mokena to make their home.

The tavern was known as Morry's and was known thru most of the county. Mr. Larson came to Mokena 23 years ago from Joliet and opened the business. He drew considerable patronage from Joliet and other sections as well as from the immediate area.

He has enjoyed his many contacts but tavern hours are long hours and Morry admits to being tired and wants to just take it easy for a time.

New Rector To Hold First Services Sunday

The new vicar of Grace Episcopal church, New Lenox, the Rev. Humphrey C. Dixon, will conduct his first service as such at 11 o'clock Sunday morning, Dec. 2, at a parish corporate Communion.

Church school will be at the usual time, 9:30 and the vicar will celebrate Holy Communion at 9 o'clock at St. Paul's church, Manhattan. The service at Manhattan will be at that hour, 9 a.m. each Sunday.

He will have charge of both Grace and St. Paul's churches, which will be nothing new for Citizens of the village of Mokena will decide Dec. 8—which is a week from Saturday—whether the community is to have a sewer system and sewage disposal plant.

A bond election is to be held on that date. The village hall will serve as the polling place. Hours will be from 6 a.m. to 5 p.m. The question is before the voters is approval of the issuance of $100,000 of general obligation bonds to meet a part of the cost of the proposed improvement.

As the term implies, general obligation bonds are those whose retirement is an obligation on the entire municipality and is brought about thru taxation.

Village officials, who have endorsed the sewer project, say the tax for the general obligation bonds will amount to about five cents a day on a piece of property that is assessed at $5,000.

The total cost of the sewer system, including a sewage treatment plant, is estimated at about $400,000. It is the hope of officials to obtain a federal

Solicit Funds For Hospital

Teams of Mokena and Frankfort residents are now canvassing those communities in behalf of the Silver Cross hospital building fund campaign.

This Joliet hospital is now in the midst of a drive to raise $600,000 to finance a $900,000 addition. The remainder of the money needed is already available.

Of the $600,000 to be raised approximately $200,000 has been subscribed.

Members of the medical staff are reported to have met their quota of some $90,000 and a similar sum is sought from small businesses and the general public.

The major portion of the $600,000—$420,000—is expected to come from the industrial, manufacturing and commercial corporations in Joliet and other communities served by the hospital.

Mrs. Margaret Semmler, editor and publisher of the Semmler Press, and Mrs. Hugo Niethammer are co-chairmen of the drive in Mokena, while Al Hochberger, cashier of the Frankfort State bank, is in charge of the drive in Frankfort.

Subscriptions may be paid over a 3 year period, in 36 monthly payments, 12 quarterly or six semi-annual payments or may be payable as the donor desires—in a single cash payment if he chooses.

Members of the canvassing team for Mokena are, Mesdames Fred J. Rickerts, Arthur Omland, Fred Steinhagen, Oliver Keislar, John Marti, Fred Clark, Charles Burkhardt, Donald Becker, and Robert Matsey.

A house to house canvass is being made. Those who may not have been home when the solicitors called can send their donations to any of the canvassers

IT'S THE LAW

Can I collect from the restaurant owner if my hat is stolen from the hat rack? Or, if my younger brother uses my car on a date and injures someone while driving, am I liable. These and similar questions are often asked of lawyers by worried clients and curious friends. The answers are found in a special branch of the law known as the "law of bailments".

In everyday language, a bailment is a loan. Generally, a bailment occurs when possession of personal property is given to another (the "bailee"), but the ownership remains in the lender (the "bailor"). Bailments can be for a fixed period of time or for indefinite term, and they can be for pay or free. Bailments relate always to "personalty", this is, tangible property, not attached to land.

Possession Must Pass

Bailments give rise to special rights and duties. A few commonplace examples may help to illustrate some of them. First, a bailment does not occur unless possession of the property is delivered to another. So, when you hang your hat on the hat rack in the coffee shop, you have not delivered possession to the owner, and, therefore, you cannot hold him responsible as bailee if it is gone when you look for it. However, if you leave your hat with a hat-check girl, then she, and her employer, become the bailees of your chapeau.

Presumption of Negligence

The bailee is under a duty to return the property in as good condition as when he received it. If he fails to do so, then the law presumes that he was negligent in injuring or losing the property, and the burden shifts to him to prove he is not at fault. For example, if you leave your car with an attendant in a parking lot, and find on your return that there is a new dent in the fender, the damage is presumed to have happened through the carelessness of the attendant. This means that if the case went to court, the attendant or his employer would have to prove that he was not careless with the car while he had possession of it. This presumption operates for two reasons: First, it is logical to assume that injury or loss to a bailed article is caused by the bailee's neglect, because he had possession of it, and second, the bailee is in a better position than the bailor to prove what happened to the property, again for the reason that he had possession.

Bailor Not Responsible

The bailor is not responsible for his bailee's negligent use of the property loaned. Thus, if you loan your car to your brother and while driving it on his own business he injures someone through his own fault, you are not responsible to the injured party. But remember, if the accident occurs by reason of a hidden defect in the auto, that you knew about, or that you should have known of, you may be liable to the injured person. Your failure to warn your bailee of the defect may well be a contributing cause of the accident.

These are only a few rules taken from the law of bailments. They indicate the importance to us all of taking good care of property entrusted to us, and of choosing our "bailees" with care.

Salt Of The Earth? It Days Illinois Going In Early Kept

by John W. Allen
Southern Illinois University

The Gallatin Salines came into possession of Illinois when the new state was formed. They immediately became an important source of revenue for the fledgling state. This is indicated by the fact that in 1821-22 the entire tax paid by residents of Illinois was only $7,121.09 while the state's income from the salt works was $10,563.09. It would appear that the state could hardly have survived without this income.

Half Moon Lick near Equality in Gallatin county was for many years a main source of supply for salt in the Mississippi valley. Until Illinois became a state, the lick and a considerable tract of the lands lying about it remained in the possession and under the management of the United States government. From time to time they would lease it to an individual or group to operate for a term of years, generally for a portion of the salt made.

Because of its importance as a source of supply and because the government wished to encourage the development of the industry that would assure an ample salt supply for the mid-west, a rectangular tract of land 10 by 16 miles was set aside with a strip about three miles wide running to the mouth of the Saline River. In order to assure a supply of fuel wood for the salt furnaces this tract was withdrawn from settlement and designated as the Saline Reservation.

At first all operations were centered in the immediate vicinity of the lick. The fuel demands soon removed the nearby forest and required the hauling of wood from a distance. This, in turn, reduced profits. The problem this presented was partially solved by establishing new furnaces some distance away and conveying the brine to them thru pipelines, then a somewhat novel idea.

These pipelines were made of logs from 10 to 16 inches in diameter and sometimes more than 16 feet long. The logs were bored lengthwise with holes four or more inches in diameter. This work was first done by hand but later a horsepowered device was arranged to do the work. After boring, the logs were reamed out at one end and tapered at the other. After placing an iron band at the reamed end to prevent splitting, the logs were jammed tightly together to form a pipeline.

A map prepared about 1816 shows seven of these lines going out from Half Moon, some of them extending for more than two miles. One such line went out from the lower spring located in Salt Spring Hollow about three miles below Equality. It was about this spring that John Crenshaw, builder and owner of the "Slave House," operated. This is the salt spring most visited and is often referred to as "Nigger Spring." It was near this spring that preliminary excavations made a few years ago by Irvin Peithman of S. I. U. indicated that more extensive research might reveal highly significant findings.

That the salt making industry near Equality was important in an early day is indicated by the fact that it, more than any other one factor, served to shape the policy of the new state concerning slavery. It also did much to bring about the movement to open Illinois to slavery at a later date.

Pits mark the sites of old wells in the Half Moon Lick area. Some of these pits have large trees growing within them or on their edges to indicate that they were abandoned more than 100 years ago. More well pits, filled and stacked with brush, are seen in a newly cleared field. They are the places where additional wells were sunk in an effort to obtain a better grade of brine.

Many of the workmen at the lick, both slave and white, lived in the village of Equality. Others lived in houses near the lick. A walk across the newly cleared field already mentioned reveals numerous spots where broken pieces of pottery, bricks and discolored stones show that a dwelling once stood. In another field on the other side of the woodland a number of wells and cisterns could be seen a few years ago.

Two of them are still in evidence. When the salt works was in full operation, several hundred men worked here and there was a considerable village near the lick.

Now, after a few good rains, Half Moon Lick, one of the most noted landmarks connected with the story of early Southern Illinois, will disappear. The "lick" will be submerged.

A recently constructed dam across the outlet through which the famous salt lick drained will create a lake covering the site and some 30 or 40 additional acres of land. Half Moon Lick will be in the deeper part near the dam.

There can be nothing particularly wrong with the placing of this dam. The deer and buffalo, evidently millions of them, that once came along the now dim trails to lick the salty earth have been gone for a long, long time. Gone, also, are the Indians who came here to hunt or to make salt for themselves. Even the white men who came here to establish the first saltworks, for many years the most important industry in the region, have been gone for more than 80 years.

None of the buildings that served the early industry are left. The derricks, towers, tanks, furnaces, offices, shops and dwellings have all disappeared. To the casual viewer little remains to indicate the extent of the industry that once flourished here.

Some very old persons can still point out the site where Castle and Temple, last operators of the works, had their office. These same persons will help you find bits of low crumbling walls that once were the foundations upon which the kettles and pans were arranged to boil the salty water. About these sites one also finds bits of broken kettles and pans and iron fittings that now are puzzling.

To one who would browse about over the scenes of early Illinois history, a trip to the spot where this early industry flourished would prove rewarding. A book could be written about the Gallatin Salines.

O.K. Plans For 3 Model Homes At Frankfort

A new subdivision, containing five acres, has been opened on the north side of the village of Frankfort by Harlan Eisenbrandt. The property formerly was owned by John Staff and is located approximately a block south of Route 30.

Plans for three model homes to be erected on McDonald Lane which is a new street extending west from White street, have been approved by the Frankfort village board.

Building permits have been issued to Neal McErlan, of 10931 S. Western ave., Chicago, who will erect them. The houses will be of ranch type with three bedrooms and attached garage.

Wishes Come True for Illinois 4-H'ers

The perennial wish of Illinois 4-H Club members—state honors and a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago—came true this year for three teen-agers whose 1956 records of performance were superior in the National 4-H Food Preparation, Clothing, and Home Improvement programs.

Ruth Rohl, 20, of Sidell has become an expert in preparing nutritious, appetizing meals. Participation in the 4-H Food Preparation program has taught her how to select, plan, and serve a wide variety of dishes. As state winner, the Kelvinator Division, American Motors, provides her all-expense trip to Chicago.

A club member for nine years, Ruth began her food preparation achievement nine times, at the state fair five times and at the county fair nine times, where she won many awards. She gave seven demonstrations, including making bound buttonholes, different types of seam finishes, altering patterns, and "making the most of your dollar." Carol's local club leader is Mrs. C. W. Jackson.

project by cooking over an outdoor fire place. Now she is an expert at baking cakes, cookies and breads, and also freezes them for future use.

A student at the University of Illinois, Ruth serves as hostess at teas and parties on campus. Mrs. Leland Hogan is her 4-H Club leader.

Carol Benson, 19, of Elburn is now in her 10th year of Club work. As state 4-H Clothing winner, she is the guest of Coats and Clark at the Club Congress. Having a remarkable flair for making clothes, Carol has completed 184 garments. They included a coat, suit, formal gown, and taffeta suit-dress.

She exhibited at the local Club winner in the 4-H Home Improvement program, will share in the 10th anniversary of the program's awards donor—the Sears-Roebuck Foundation.

During her 11 years in 4-H, she enrolled in projects that led to the five-year room plan. Peggy learned color combination, composition and arrangement, working on her own room. She then helped her mother paint other bedrooms, the kitchen, dining room, hall and stairway. This experience proved helpful when she arranged her room at college. Mrs. Lonnie Mattingly was Peggy's 4-H local Club leader.

All these programs are conducted under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Dairy Cattle Raisers to Hold School Dec. 4

All farmers with dairy cattle are invited to attend the first Will county Dairy Feeding Day on Tuesday, Dec. 4. Assistant Farm Adviser Alden Hickman says that the program will start at 10:30 o'clock in the morning at Sportsman hall, Manhattan. Adjournment is scheduled for 3:00. The morning program will be built around a panel discussion on forage production and utilization. The panel will be composed of local dairymen. Lunch will be served at moderate cost and the afternoon program will consist of a dairy cattle feeding school.

There will be exhibits showing how better feeds help to produce more milk and the money returns from cows at different levels of production. Also, quick and easy methods for making up proper rations will be discussed.

"This program is planned for you," said Mrs. Hickman. "Come on out and learn how to make your dairy work pay you more money."

We in America perfected the world of machines—and it was rapid perfection. Only 50 years ago about half of the work in our country was done by animals and men. Today, mechanical power does virtually the whole job, and yet we have been hitting new peaks in total employment.

Guard Against Fire in the Home

WHERE THERE'S SMOKE there's fire, but when smoke starts billowing at home or at work it's a little late to start reading up on how to fight a fire. Putting one out is very much like dosing a sick person. A tablespoon of a certain medicine may cure a stomach-ache but not give a bit of relief for a sore toe. It all smolders down to this. After calling the fire department, if the fire is still small and you want to fight it yourself, know the cause, the approved cure and apply it.

There are three classes of fire and each calls for a different extinguishing method. The first class is started from inflammable liquids like oil, fat, paraffin and paint. Many of these originate in the kitchen from fat on the range, in the broiler or skillet or from igniting paraffin used in making jam and jelly. You have a good extinguisher right on the kitchen shelf. That box of baking soda. A handful of soda tossed over a small starting fire will knock it cold by releasing carbon dioxide gas which helps smother the flames. In fact, one of the most effective commercial dry chemical extinguishers is charged 97 percent with baking soda.

The second type fire is from common combustibles like wood, paper and textiles. Water here is the cure.

The third type . . . on electrical fire . . . poses special problems because it must be fought with agencies that are non-conductors if the fire fighter doesn't want to be suddenly knocked into the next world. Such a fire is best left to the experts.

The well protected home therefore should have two types of extinguishers to lick the various types of fires that might break out. A portable extinguisher that squirts plain water, such as a strategically placed hose, and an extinguisher that squirts a dry smothering chemical or an easily reached box of baking soda.

Bremen High Library Busy Place Nowadays

An average circulation of over one hundred books a week does, not, perhaps sound like a large circulation to the supervisor of a metropolitan library. To a school such as the Bremen Community high school in Midlothian, this circulation is quite a respectable one.

School libraries are used by all categories of students. At no time during the school day do you find this large, pleasant, well lighted, book-lined room vacant. Instruction is now being given by Miss Mary Alice Smith, librarian, and members of English and Social Science departments in the use of the library. Freshmen students are usually unacquainted with the use of such a large library, and they are often discouraged in their use of it because of their lack of library skills. It is hoped that after mastering a few basic fundamentals that each student will take advantage of his knowledge and be able to use the library as a study tool.

Several hundred new books were added to the library this year. They range in subject matter from autobiography to new reference volumes which cover every possible subject.

Recent Survey Gives Reasons for Teacher Shortage

Educational authorities have conducted a survey to determine the cause of the current teacher shortage.

They have summarized their findings as follows:

1. Schools have been called upon to accept greatly expanded responsibilities beyond their financial resources.
2. There has been a tremendous increase in student enrollment.
3. The number of youths in the 18 to 21 year group who achieved maturity went steadily downward between 1945 and 1955.
4. Industry, commerce and government recruited men and women from the teaching pool.
5. Occupational opportunities outside teaching expanded for women.
6. There was a sharp drop in

Church Contributions

The bulk of church members give little more than pittance to keep their churches going, according to a copyright article in the November issue of Changing Times, The Kiplinger Magazine. "The overwhelming majority of giving is on a $1-a-week basis. But many occasional church attenders contribute as little as $2 a year for the support of the church to which they are anxious to come to on Christmas and Easter.

"Of the ten Protestant churches receiving the greatest total contributions, Presbyterians (U. S.) gave the most, an average of 75.54 per member a year. Lutherans (Missouri Synod) were next with $67.82 and Presbyterians (U.S.A.), third, with an average member contribution of $61.47. The other seven: Congregational Christian, $54.76; Protestant Episcopal, $51.84; Lutheran (United), $50.25; Baptist (American Convention), $43.17; Baptist (Southern Convention), $42.17; Methodist, $37.53; and Disciples of Christ $34.77.

"If you really want to help your church financially, pledge for the year. Your pastor will appreciate knowing he can count on a certain sum from you.

"If you don't go to church very often, there is even more reason for you to make a firm pledge for the whole year. Your church cannot function on mere token support. And you expect the church to be operating when you go.

"If you already use envelopes, you might give thought to a substantial increase.

"Pay on time, too. Remember church expenses take no vacation.

"A church that has to fight to get ahead usually is a live church. But don't let this thought comfort you too much. Most people, say church leaders, could double their contributions without straining their pocket-books and with considerable beneficial effect on the church. The question is, the Changing Times editors ask, Could you?"

"BACK THE ATTACK"

From coast to coast, America is rallying forces against one of its greatest enemies—traffic accidents.

The tragic rise in the death toll this year has made 1956 the darkest year in traffic accident history.

In an all out effort to halt the mounting toll of dead and injured, the National Safety Council is launching a nationwide campaign called "Back the Attack on Traffic Accidents," which will continue through 1957.

The title for the new campaign symbolizes its purpose—to unite public officials and private citizens in an all out fight against highway disaster.

Public officials are asked to back the attack by stepping up traffic law enforcement. Private citizens are asked to back the attack by setting a better personal example in their own traffic behavior, and by demanding, supporting and accepting more vigorous traffic law enforcement.

Since December is the most dangerous month of the year in traffic, the special hazards of the holiday season will be emphasized in the first month of the new campaign. These are speed, drinking, night driving and the risk to pedestrians.

"We can't build an expressway to traffic safety—but we can keep our highways from becoming human 'toll roads' if public officials and citizens will unite and 'Back the Attack.'"

L-W Host To Reavis Friday Night

Game to Open Cage Season in SW League; Loses to Peotone

By Fred Kieslar

On Wednesday, November 21, the Knights basketball team suffered defeat by the Peotone Blue Devils, 65 to 43. This game was the second game of the season and the first home game for Lincoln-Way.

In the first part of the first quarter the game looked pretty good for the Knights for as soon as it was under way two baskets were scored by them. Peotone then gained possession of the ball but the Knights were ready for this. They didn't allow the Blue Devils to score but recovered the ball and scored another quick basket. Peotone then woke up and quickly caught up too, tied, and passed the score made by L-W.

Lincoln-Way kept its score to within 10 points of Peotone's until the last quarter when they began to tire. This gave the Blue Devils the chance they had been waiting for and enabled them to score enough to win by a 22 point margin.

The high scorers for L-W were Denny Wheeler and Henry Jessen, and for Peotone Adam-sik and Loeffler, first names not available.

Lincoln-Way will meet Reavis tomorrow, Friday, their first conference game, at Lincoln. All home varsity games start at approximately 8 p.m.

Sandburg Downs Lemont 70-58 To Start Basketball Season; Meets Mustangs Tomorrow Night

The Carl Sandburg Eagles picked up where they left off last year in composing a winning season as they blasted Lemont by the score of 70-58 Wednesday night. As coach Jorstad juggled his lineup to see how the new members would react under game conditions, all 10 boys entered the coring column. Mark Hill, junior center, scored 18 points on six field goals and six free throws to tie Tom Henebry, Lemont guard who pumped in five field goals and eight free throws, for scoring honors for the evening. Darrel Erickson, senior guard also poured in six field goals and followed with four free throws for sixteen points and Richard Aird scored six field goals and two free throws for fourteen points.

While play was ragged at times, the young Eagles squad recuperating from the loss of four of the first five regular from last year's quintet gave every indication of developing into a fine team before tournament time in Feb.

Sandburg opens the Southwest Suburban conference race tomorrow night as host to the dangerous Evergreen Park Mustangs in the Carl Sandburg gymnasium and follow on Saturday night by traveling to Blue Island to face the strong Blue Island quintet.

The Evergreen Park squad is the same squad that finished last season with a rush and give every indication of being a potential conference champion this year. In the preliminary game Wednesday night, Coach Adams' freshman-sophomore squad lost 25-14.

The opening game on Friday night will begin at 7 o'clock and will be followed by the varsity game at approximately 8:15.

Sportabout

by Jack Maypole

Sportsmen in the market for an outboard who are waiting until spring to buy are making a mistake. This is the time of year when dealers are well stocked with boating equipment and can give immediate delivery. Not only that, but because of the seasonal selling lull, he can devote more time to your needs, give you valuable tips on how to handle your outboard and a lot of other services he won't have time for when the selling season starts.

If you can't afford a new engine, a good way to get started in outboarding is by purchasing a used motor. While you may not get all the refinement of a new motor—you'll get what you need for boating fun—good transportation! Here's a few tips to help you in your search for a good used outboard: First—check the compression. Grasp the starter rope and pull the motor over several times. Check the "pull" and "bounce" as the motor turns.

Second—check the crankcase bearings. Examine it for excessive dirty oil accumulations on the armature plate which indicates a faulty upper bearing assembly.

Third—check the condition of cylinders. Remove the spark plugs and by using a special pencil flashlight, peer into the cylinder head. Look for excessive carbon accumulation—and if you find some—don't reject the motor—it can easily be cleaned out.

Fourth—check propeller bearings. Exert up-and-down pressure on the propeller shaft. Look for seepage around the propeller shaft bearing. Excessive up-and-down play or seepage indicates a worn bearing.

Fifth—check the needle valve response. Insist that the motor be run in a test tank. While it's running, see if the needle valves respond to adjustment.

Finally, while the engine is running, check the wiring, fuel connections, gasoline line and smooth operation, particularly when idling. If these few points are checked and the motor passes, it's probably safe to buy . . . and you can look forward to a world of pleasure in your outboard motor next spring, summer, and fall!

"Run For The Sun", is Film Full of Thrills

The setting of "Run For The Sun," at the Nortown theatre, Chicago Heights, thru United Artists release, is the Mexican jungle and environs. And, with simple if somewhat startling appropriateness, the entire picture was shot on location in and around the Mexican jungle.

"Run For The Sun" is a savage and unusual suspense film featuring a nerve-rattling 35-chase thru the aforementioned jungle. Richard Widmark, Jane Greer and Trevor Howard are starred, and Peter Van Eyck is top-featured. Harry Tatelman produced the Russ-Field production, in Technicolor and Superscope, and Roy Boulting directed.

Loaded Driver Like Loaded Gun a Lethal Weapon

"A loaded gun is no more dangerous than a half loaded driver," Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, asserted today. "For one thing, the driver isn't recognized as a lethal weapon."

Mr. Dearborn, appealing to civic organizations and enforcement officials to "Back the Attack" against traffic accidents, pointed out that drinking drivers and drinking pedestrians are more prevalent during the

Liberty Grows in Hungary, Says Head of Radio Liberation

Final official returns of the vote cast in the general election Nov. 6 shows that the total vote cast in the state was 4,434,956, of which 2,330,979 were cast in Cook county and 2,153,977 outside of Cook county.

The vote on the proposed change of the revenue article of the state constitution which appeared on the Blue Ballot was soundly beaten. 2,139,150 to 1,408,132. The proposition, which would have given the state legislature a blank check so far as tax laws would have been concerned, was beaten by a larger margin downstate, 1,099,003 to 593,354, than it was in Cook county where the yes vote was 814,773 and the no vote 1,040,142.

The Illinois Banking Act found favor with the public and carried by a plurality of 1,023,536. The vote was 1,472,236 for the act and 443,650 against.

William McVey, Republican reelected congressman of the fourth district, carried his district by some 51,000 votes over Michael Hinko.

Hinko 103,494
The final official vote for state senator in the sixth district shows Frank Ozinga, Evergreen Park banker, Republican, won from Leland Rayson, Tinsley Park attorney, Democrat, by some 14,000 votes.

Ozinga 37,669
Rayson 23,421
Terrel E. Clarke and Harold A. Hoover, Republicans, and Frank X. Downey, Democrat, were elected state representatives from the second district. Downey beat out Galvin Kennedy, also a Democrat.

Clarke 93,427½
Hoover 88,282½
Downey 58,337
Kennedy 50,590½

President Eisenhower carried 97 of the 102 counties in the state including Cook to score a plurality of 847,645 over Stevenson. Eisenhower's total vote in Illinois was 2,623,327 to Stevenson's 1,775,632. In Cook county the vote was Eisenhower, 1,293,223; Stevenson, 977,821; outside of Cook county Eisenhower polled 1,330,104 and Stevenson, 797,861.

And in case anyone wants to know the vote of the Socialist Labor candidate for the presidency, Eric Haas, it was 8,342. Stratton won by 36,877.

Christmas holidays than at any other time of the year.

Because of the emergency traffic situation, with its rising toll, Mr. Dearborn said a year-round "Back the Attack on Traffic Accidents" campaign is being launched this December and will continue throughout 1957.

The purpose of the campaign is, first, to encourage public officials to step up the attack, and second, to stimulate citizens to back the attack on traffic accidents.

The December emphasis will be on drinking drivers and pedestrians, night driving, speed, and pedestrian hazards.

The throttle and the bottle were the big reasons why a record 609 persons were killed in traffic accidents last Christmas, according to a study made by the National Safety Council.

Drinking drivers were involved in 55 percent of the fatal mishaps, altho normally they are involved in around 20 percent, the study showed. Speed was a factor in 85 per cent, compared with an annual average of 35 percent.

The most common driver action contributing to fatal accidents was driving on the wrong side of the road or in the center of the road. Failure to observe a signal or stop sign was second. Mechanical failure or tire blow outs were responsible for only four of the fatal accidents studied.

New Task-Force 57 Chevrolet Trucks!

They "flattened" Yukon mountains with the most modern truck V8's of all!

Rated G.V.W. of these payload-carrying heavyweights goes all the way up to 32,000 pounds!

New V8-powered '57 Chevrolet trucks, heavily loaded, made one of the world's toughest roads look easy! In a straight-through test run, they rolled over the famous ALCAN Highway to Alaska—in less than 45 hours (normally a 72-hour run). Here's proof-in-action of power that'll handle your toughest jobs—and keep coming back for more!

Whatever your job, there's an Alcan-proved Chevrolet Task-Force truck ready right now to save you time and money!

Six new Task-Force huskies made the run. And six ultra-modern Chevy engines proved their power and performance—with gas mileage up to 18.17 miles per gallon! Two of the engines were not stopped once, and they hummed along at peak efficiency the entire 1,520 miles!

Chevy's big V8's—including the new 283-cu.-in. Super Taskmaster—turned in top performance jobs. They hauled typical loads up and down towering grades and through washouts that sucked wheels into hub-deep mud. They roared on through miles of heavy dust that narrowed visibility to a few hundred feet. And in spite of the varying altitudes and temperatures, not a single truck was forced to drop out or turn back! Stop by and see them soon!

Survey Shows Results of Milk Program in Will County Schools

R. W. Bartlett, professor agricultural economics, University of Illinois, has compiled a summary of the results of the school milk program in Will county based on surveys made in Jan., 1955 and Jan., 1956.

At present the special milk program for schools is being emphasized in dairy marketing extension under the direction of Robert E. Jacobson. Altho Illinois ranks only second Calif. and New York in total amount of milk consumed under this program, the minimum goal of one-half pint a day, or 45 quarts annually, for each student has been achieved in only 18 of the state's 102 counties. One out of three Illinois schools is not participating.

The studies show that Will county had an average of 17.9 quarts of milk consumed annually per student last year under the school milk program, as taken from records in the county schools office.

Mr. Bartlett commended 12 of the county's schools for topping the recommended goal of 45 quarts of milk. His figures show that students in participating schools averaged 36.2 quarts annually, based on a survey last January.

Will county had 33 school districts, public and parochial, participating in the program during 1955-56, with 12,470 students served. Of the remaining schools which did not participate, 12,787 students were not served milk under the program.

Participating school can receive a maximum reimbursement of from three to four cents on each half-pint of milk consumed—depending on whether or not they had a school lunch, or a school milk, program previously.

In most schools, children seldom pay over three cents for each halfpint and frequently pay much less—particularly if the school has school lunch program.

Top three school in the county in terms of amount of milk consumed per student were Valley View, Custer Park Community Consolidated, and Wilmington-Lorenzo Community Unit.

Schools not under the program still can join. Any Illinois school can become eligible by submitting an application to the office of the county superintendent of school.

Tips on How to Help Youngsters Driver Training

Whether your young child is exceptionally bright or not, here are some ways to help him learn. Let him talk as much as he likes. And listen. Speak correctly to him. Answer his questions patiently—even when they get on your nerves.

Read to him. When he grows restless, though, let him go. Stick to good books. Encourage him to reason, to plan ahead, to follow instructions. But don't press him to learn. And don't teach him to read—that's a specialist's job. Have faith in him. If he's like other kids, fine. If he's different, that's fine, too. Let him know that he's yours and he's okay.—CHANGING TIMES.

grant of $74,500 which would apply to the cost of the project, thus reducing the cost to $337,850 for Mokena. This figure would bring connections from the laterals to the property line of each lot, which would make it cheaper for the property owners.

Mokena, like most of the communities in the Chicago area, has outgrown its septic tank system and the state board of health is beginning to crack down on those towns where no effort is being made to install sewers and sewage treatment plants.

New Lenox and Frankfort are studying the situation and are expected to embark on similar projects as envisioned by Mokena.

There is to be a meeting at Joliet Dec. 12 at which the representatives from the county health department, the state sanitary water board, the attorney general's office and the Will county state's attorney's office are scheduled to discuss sanitation disposal problems outside the city of Joliet.

The city of Joliet is pressing the state to take action to halt pollution of Hickory creek from outside Joliet. Joliet is now engaged in a sewer project to stop pollution of the creek within the city's boundaries.

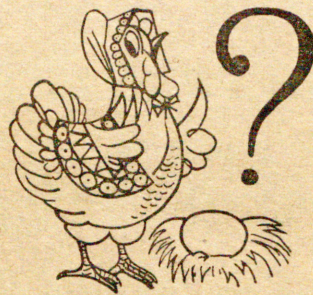

Youth Recovering From Auto Injury

The condition of Bernard Santerelli, 15, a patient at Silver Cross hospital, Joliet, since he was hit by a car Nov. 18, is reported "good."

The youth, a freshman at Lincoln-Way high school, suffered a broken right ankle and a compound fracture of the lower third of the right leg, above the ankle; also multiple cuts and bruises, when the car driven by Robert W. Schert, 45, of Lincolnwood, hit him as he came around the back of the school bus, after alighting.

Oklahoma is the only state whose capital, Oklahoma City, sanitation disposal problems bears the state name.

MISS SLICK CHICK'S QUESTION BOX

Mrs. Housewife:

What does the term
candled eggs mean?

Miss Slick Chick:

To candle an egg means to hold the egg before a light in a darkened room. The expert candler can judge by shadows cast through the shell whether the egg is inedible and why. It will show blood spots, fertil spots, cracks in the shell, and spoiled eggs. It also shows the air space which also indicates just how old the egg is.

STECH'S "FARM FRESH EGGS"

are all candled, and guaranteed to be free of all spots, with firm shells and no air space as they are all strictly fresh. To be sure of your eggs call KE 2-2097 or purchase them at Try's, Vogt's, or Rudy's in Tinley Park.

Arts-Crafts At Oak Forest Of Great Benefit To Patients

Dan Ryan, president of the Cook county board of commissioners, sent 40 pieces of arts-crafts, made by patients of Cook county's Oak Forest institution to the Illinois public aid commission's meeting in Chicago where the Oak Forest technique was explained to welfare representatives of Illinois' 102 counties relating patients' disabilities and abilities taught.

At Oak Forest many patients hospitalization is provided by public aid.

On display were ceramics, leathercraft, copper enamel jewelry, original oil paintings, wood work and woven rugs and baskets.

In the ceramic display was a complete place setting, with the new deep dish turned up sides, fired in the kiln of the suburban hospital's vocational therapy department, by a hemiplegic, taught to use her functioning arm to advantage.

A delicate ceramic basket, made by a recently discharged Oriental who is a diabetic and a chef, was eyed for its workmanship while the Oak Forest representative told of the patient's adjustment and response to therapy.

Leather work, such as the floral tooled new Carson City oval woman's handbag, and wallets, were exhibited to show the work produced as patients develop muscle dexterity and coordination.

Oak Forest staff doctors and consultants prescribe these rehabilitative treatment. Patients attend classes under trained instructors. Treatment varies from once a week and sessions last from one to five hours.

An oil painting of a negro baby by a woman confined to a wheel chair with a generalized disabling osteo arthritic deformity, for 17 years at Oak Forest, indicated the need for therapy during long term illness.

The lure of paint brush and canvas got one very uncooperative patient out of bed and into a wheel chair, and sufficiently interested in looking well at classes to comb her hair. Stimulation of the art work has not only removed her apathy, but given her an appetite and the will to learn to feed herself.

This woman's thatched roof cottage in the painting shows a serenity which has also come to her person with advancement in therapy.

Oak Forest patients interested in painting have a studio where they colonize daily from 8 am. to 4 pm.

Corrective shoes made at Oak Forest were also displayed. The county representative outlined the type of instruction given to patients wishing to learn the cobbler's trade, and showed woodcraft such as reindeer and sleigh which will be centerpieces for Oak Forest patient's tables this Christmas.

Oak Forest technique and economy of therapy operation, possible because much equipment is made at the Institution was saluted at the annual meet as it was in Peoria recently during an Illinois Welfare Association Conference, attended by county home representatives, County superintendents and others interested in welfare throughout the state.

Cook Co. Hosp. Boosts Rates to $18.48 Per Day

The county board's public service committee today approved a rate hike for county hospital patients.

Effective Dec. 1 the daily rates will go up from $16.78 to $18.48.

Final approval of the increase was scheduled to be given by the county board yesterday.

The rates are paid by those who not only can afford to pay for their own care but also by insurance companies and by the state of Illinois for patients at the hospital.

The rate increase was requested by County Welfare Director, Raymond Hilliard. Hilliard says it will not be necessary to raise the present $155 a month rate at the Oak Forest infirmary.

The last rate hike at County hospital took effect July 1, last year when the charges were boosted from $14.31 to the present $16.78.

The red Double-Barred Cross carried by the children on this year's Christmas Seals is the registered trademark of the National Tuberculosis Association.

Postmasters Give Tips For Yule Mailings

Area postmasters, who have launched their 1956 "Mail Early For Christmas" campaign, believe a word or two to the wise will help make your Christmas and those of your friends and loved ones as merry as it should be.

With Christmas less than a month away, the post office is geared up right now to insure the delivery of all gift packages and Christmas Cards by Dec. 25, but your cooperation is essential.

Speaking about his plans, the postmasters said, "There's about 167 million people in this country today. More than ever before. More people means more Christmas mail. That's why it's so important to have a helping hand from the public to 'Mail Early for Christmas.' The postmasters especially directed their appeal to 'the lady of the house', because she usually selects the Christmas cards, buys most of the gifts, and sees to it that the Christmas mailing list is up-to-date.

Predicting that this year's Christmas mail will set a new all time record, the postmasters urged that you take the following steps at once: Check your Christmas card lists very carefully, make sure that each address includes the full name, street and number, city, zone and state. Then, secure Pamphlet No. 2 at the Post Office, telling you all about packaging and wrapping parcels for mailing, and Pamphlet No. 3, giving full details on domestic postage. A modest investment in heavy rates and fees. Stock up on stamps at the same time.

Also, ask for free labels reading "All For Local Delivery" and "All For Out of Town Delivery," so that you can speed arrival of your Christmas cards by sorting and tying them in two separate bundles, with the addresses all facing one way, wrapping paper, sturdy empty cartons, strong cord and craft paper adhesive tape will pay big dividends in safe deliveries of your cherished Christmas gifts.

If you'd like to include your Christmas Cards or letters inside the package with your gifts, just add the appropriate first class mail postage to the postage for the packages themselves.

ves. This combination mail service recently introduced by the post office department insures simultaneous arrival of your gifts and greetings.

Remember, that only Christmas cards carrying three cents, or six cents air mail postage, may include a personal message. Nothing more than a signature is authorized on cards mailed at the two cent third class rate, and be sure your return address is on every Christmas card envelope—this is socially correct, and helps both you and your friends to keep your mailing lists up-to-date.

After your gift wrapping and packing is complete and your Christmas cards are addressed

PRACTICE OF PHARMACY

Educational and legislative restrictions on the practice of pharmacy assure the public of the finest health care, according to Noel Elliott of Elliott's Rexall Pharmacy, speaking before the Phi-Chem Association at the Lincoln-Way high school last Monday. "Most of these controls," he said, "have been urged by pharmacists themselves, to raise the level of pharmaceutical practice to the high place it now enjoys." He paid tribute to the high ethical standards within the profession, and paid particular reference to the role of the pharmacist in the effective control of narcotics and poisons.

Educational requirements, he said, call for a four year course of college training, in one of the nation's 74 colleges of pharmacy. Following this, a year of internship is required in most states, under the supervision of a registered pharmacist. In some states, this supervisor must have been a registered pharmacist for at least five years, and must keep a daily record of the intern's work.

Four out of five pharmacy students, he said, choose retail pharmacy as a career, but manufacturing pharmacy is attracting more and more pharmacists today because of the opportunities for pure research.

Highlights Of Farm Life

By W. F. Whiteside
Cook Co. Asst. Farm Advisor

Robert Stellwagen, Tinley Park, was selected to extend the appreciation of the 200 4-H members who attended the Bowman Dairy 4H Roundup in Chicago. The group was treated to a luncheon at the Lake Shore club. It was at this event that Bob gave the response. I might add, he did an excellent job.

The annual meeting of the Camp Shaw waw nas see Association was held last week. Camping periods for the counties were determined. 4H members from Cook county will be at camp July 22-26.

This may seem like an early announcement. Maybe it will help you endure the winter. Just think of the fun you can have at camp.

Farmers who produced corn on their farms this year will have part in an important decision on December 11. That is the date of the corn referendum.

The referendum will determine the corn program for commercial corn counties for the 1957 crop.

Cook county is one of the 894 commercial corn counties.

The choice will be between a Soil Bank corn base acreage or the acreage allotments used prior to 1956.

If two thirds or more of the farmers who vote favor base acreages, they will be used. If more than one-third favor acreage allotments, they will be in effect.

Approval of the base acreage program will result in the following: Corn acreage in commercial corn counties will be 51 million acres. Price supports will be determined by the Secretary of Agriculture. For 1957 the national average will be $1.31 per bushel.

To qualify for price support, farmers must stay within their corn base, and take part in the soil bank program.

Approval of acreage allotments will cause national corn allotment for commercial counties to be computed each year according to a legislative formula. In 1957 it will be 39.3 million acres.

Price supports will range between 75 to 90 percent of parity, in relation to supply.

For 1957 the average support level will be $1.36 per bushel.

To qualify for price support, farmers must comply with the allotment established for their farm.

What is the greatest labor saving device in the world? Answer: Tomorrow. What's the greatest accident preventing device in the world? Answer: You.

Yes, you can cut down on accidents. By being careful and alert you can keep from being hurt.

Are landlords eligible for social security, old age, and survivor insurance? Yes and no! Some are liable for social security tax payments this year (1956) and some are not. Generally the liability will depend on whether the landowner "participates materially" in producing crops or livestock or in managing the production. To participate mater ially he must take an important part in management decisions or in actual production.

Student Loan Funds Grow at U. of I.

Student loan funds available at the University of Illinois total $592,651, an increase of $8,648 in the past year through gifts and income. In 1955-56, loans made numbered 3,986.

In 57 years since the funds were established, a total of $3,765,200 has been loaned with less than two tenths of one percent written off as uncollectable

Looks modern...

Cooks modern

Today's electric ranges are modern in every way!

Today's trend, as you know, is to electricity—in the kitchen and in every phase of modern living.

And perhaps nothing mirrors this trend better than today's electric ranges. They not only look modern, they cook modern.

Electric surface units, for example, are self-cleaning and leave no smudge on pots or pans. Easy to control because you get exactly the heat you want every time. No guesswork.

You can do every kind of cooking automatically—completely automatically—on a modern electric range: boil, bake, roast, broil, even deep fat fry foods. Accurate controls mean you never have to worry about temperature fluctuation. (You'll notice your electric oven holds the heat nice and even, thanks to insulation on all 6 sides.)

No matter which electric range you choose, you can be sure it will be new—now and for many, many years to come. Learn how little it takes to own the one you want by visiting your electric appliance dealer now.

Big Saving—we pay part of your range installation cost. Need modern wiring to install your electric range? We share the cost with qualified home owners in 1, 2 and 3-family dwellings. This can cut your expense by about half.

And you get more than a money saving. The modern wiring that goes with your installation helps improve your TV picture, brightens lights, makes everything electrical work better. You can also install a 240-volt electric dryer, water heater or air conditioner quickly and cheaply. The Share-the-Cost Plan is available on terms up to 2 years.

Survey Shows Results of Milk Program in Will County Schools

"Events in Hungary are indicative of the kind of ferment that can happen in the USSR under the right circumstances," Howland Sargeant, president of the American Committee for Liberation, declares.

Sargeant, who is responsible for the operation of "Radio Liberation" broadcasts by former Soviet citizens to the Soviet Union and to Soviet occupation troops in iron curtain countries, was a speaker in a new WTTW Channel 11 series, "BROADENING HORIZONS." The series is presented on the educational television station by the Tri County Schools Division of the Illinois Association of School Boards.

"The fight in Hungary is not over," he pointed out in a pre-program press conference. "There still is a general strike; in this way the revolution is being carried on. People are refusing to work, and if the Soviets can't make them work, then part of the revolution is going to succeed."

The revolt has been encouraging in many ways, he continued. "It has shown us that armored tanks will not stop people from fighting for what they believe in; it has proven that a dictatorship's indoctrination of youth is not always successful—it was the young people who started the rebellion; and when Soviet occupation troops understood what the Hungarian people were fighting for they would not fight against them."

The use of radio was another interesting factor, he reported. For almost a week the only communication from Hungary was radio. People's movements took over transmitters that had been rigged by the Soviets to jam truth broadcasts from outside. Thus the very stations set up to preclude communication through the iron curtain were the instruments used by the rebels.

Referring to America's role in the crisis, Mr. Sargeant observed: "Freedom can't be divided. The people who died in the streets of Budapest were fighting for our freedom. I'm certainly not advocating war, but we must ask ourselves how long the free world can afford to have these battles going on without support. I hope the American people will be very thoughtful about what has happened in Hungary."

"As far as I know, no American supported radio messages have encouraged deliberate revolt," he said, "but the act of communication itself will be interpreted as encouragement of whatever aspirations the peoples of the iron curtain countries may have."

Outlining the function of Radio Liberation, Mr. Sargeant emphasized that the program is not designed to create uprisings in the Soviet Union.

"We are seeking something with greater political dynamite," he suggested. "We are seeking independence of thought that can disintegrate the Soviet system from the inside. We are attempting to inject ideas which, over a period of time, will change the thinking of the Soviet peoples—above all, we are trying to let them know what really is happening in the world."

Right now, he said, Radio Liberation is trying to get to the Soviet people the true story of what has happened in Hungary. At the same time broadcasts to Soviet occupation troops have been stepped up from four or hours to 24 hours a day.

Discussing the role of propaganda in the conduct of our foreign affairs—the subject of his BROADENING HORIZONS telecast—Mr. Sargeant pointed out that the democracies have not yet learned the value of this technique.

He stressed the point that "the Soviets think propaganda is the main show, while we think it's a side show—a kind of cut-rate technique that you revert to when you don't know what else to do."

"BROADENING HORIZONS" will consist of monthly appearances by men prominent in their respective fields, explained W. R. Blew, chairman of the executive committee of the Tri County schools.

The series is designed, he explained, to keep teachers abreast of significant developments in various fields of human endeavor. Many thousands of teachers, gathered in individual faculty meetings, will watch each telecast, he pointed out.

Next in the series, he announced, is Dr. Arthur H. Compton, Nobel prize winning physicist who was formerly chancellor of and now is distinguished service professor at Washington university in St. Louis.

Dr. Compton, who will appear December 13, will analyze the latest developments in both military and peaceful uses of atomic energy.

Among the speakers scheduled for spring, Mr. Blew disclosed, is Dr. William C. Menninger of the Menninger Clinic, whose topic will be mental health.

"Yes, Christ Gave Us The CATHOLIC MASS"

Perhaps you don't think so, or perhaps you never gave it a thought. And possibly you regard this age-old Catholic worship as mere pomp and ceremony.

But if Our Lord did institute the Mass, is it not vitally important to you to find out? If He did intend it to be a continuing sacrifice... expressing Christian adoration, praise, contrition and petition... is it not too great a truth to be ignored?

"Bosh!" some will say. "Christ offered Himself on the cross once and for all. Nothing more is necessary." But wait! Jesus clearly indicated at the Last Supper that more is necessary. For after separately changing bread and wine into His Own body and blood... signifying the coming surrender of His life on the cross... Christ commanded the Apostles: "Do this in remembrance of me."

He was, obviously, instituting a continuing sacrifice in which Christians of every generation might join with Him in the most pleasing act of worship that can be offered to God. In this, as in other ways, the Apostles were to act as Christ's earthly ministers... as priests in the external offering of the sacrifice. And when they followed Christ's instructions, Our Lord would offer Himself in sacrifice—the victim would be present as He promised.

This is the heart and core of the Mass, which has been the central act of worship in every Catholic Church on the face of the earth since the time of the Apostles. As successors to the Apostles, the bishops and priests at the Mass recite the very words Christ used at the Last Supper. And when this is done, Christ is present on the altar—offering Himself as He had promised, "for the remission of sins." If this were not true, "Do this in remembrance of me" would be empty and meaningless words, which is inconceivable.

If you would like to know more about the Mass... why it attracts thousands upon thousands of people into Catholic churches everywhere on earth, every day... write today for an interesting, easy-to-understand pamphlet. We will gladly send it free and without obligation... in a plain wrapper. And nobody will call on you. Write today, ask for Pamphlet No. KC-6.

HONOR ROLL

Each grading period, the averages of our top students are figured and listed on our honor roll. On the basis of four points for an A, three points for a B, two points for a C, one point for a D, and Zero points for an F, letter grades are transposed to a point average. All students whose average is from three point five and up are placed on our high honor roll. From three point two five to three point four nine receive honors and from three to three point two four receive honorable mention.

Of 845 students, only thirty seven achieved a place on the high honor roll; twenty five achieved honors and forty six students achieved honorable mention. Despite any opinions to the contrary, we believe grades are important. Up to this time there has been no better basis for prediction success in his work of for admission to college.

Eric Johansen, Roxie Kershaw and Tom Sceuneman achieved a straight A average for this first quarter.

LIBRARY NEWS

In the Carl Sandburg High school, the library plays an important part in the educational program. In fact, it is one of the most important learning centers of the high school. Books are added to the collection to supplement textbook assignments and to afford recreational reading. At the present time, there are approximately 4500 volumes on the shelves and new books are being processed each day. In addition to books, the library contains magazines, news papers, phonograph records, and various guidance materials.

The library is the large sunny room located on the second floor at the far south end of the building. It is open each school day from 7:45 am. to 4:15 pm.

Before a student may enter the library during school hours, he must obtain a library permit signed by the teacher of the room to which he is assigned. During each period of the day, many students take advantage of their privilege to visit the library. Some periods each chair is taken and the library is a busy place for representative pupils from each of the four years.

The magazine section of the library is perhaps the most popular spot. Fifty nine magazines are found on the shelves.

Students and faculty members find the new bound magazines quite helpful in research work.

Students also have access to eight sets of encyclopedias.

Four new sections of shelving were assembled by Mr. Farr and added to the library Thursday, October 11. The wood shelves are of white birch and match the original wall shelves. In the work room of the library are enough new books to fill these shelves. Before another year, additional sections will be needed to take care of the orders for the current school term.

The student librarians' club has been newly organized under the direction of Miss Stigall and Mrs. Coulter. This club is limited to those students who are working in the library. To become a member of the student library staff one must be at least a second semester freshman, possessed of a pleasing personality and good manners, and able to give one hour each day for assisting in the library. The member must maintain a grade average of at least a "C". The librarian consults with teachers and counselors as to the fitness of prospective members.

Duties of the student librarian include mending books, checking magazines, and taking care of receiving shelves. No fee is paid for this work but the student receives valuable experience in library work and training in cooperation and services.

On October 16, the student librarians organized for the current year, with the following officers elected:

President, Kay Ireland, vice president, Connie Meredith; secretary, Nora Moody and Mickey Lucas, treasurer.

Others in the club are Daena Geissinger, Tom Herman, Nancy Cairnes, Nancy Kartman, Carol Macander, Arlene Sherman, Betty Krahulec, Donna Wells, Bonnie Shoup, Marianne Merwin, Linda Moltzan, Barbara Blount, Jane Schroeder, Bernadine Pater and Charlene Sippel.

The club plans to hold five meetings during the year. The November meeting was at the home of Mrs. Coulter and was in the form of a party.

The librarians are already beginning to think of facilities for the future. Some ideas they have in mind are: Circulation and reading center—1. Space for seating 15 to 20 per cent of the enrollment (25 sq. ft. per reader) 2—Ten thousand volumes on the shelves. 3—Storage and work space (work and storage space should be separate. Workroom, 150 sq. ft., storage 200 sq. ft.)

4—Conference space. 5—Venetian blinds or drapes.

"I believe in books, in the power of books to teach, in the gift of books to inspire, in the efficacy of books to restore and to give joy. I am happy to have the opportunity to help boys in books spiritual things of action and hope."—such is the philosophy of Miss Emma Stigall, school librarian.

Miss Stigall came to Orland Park five years ago as a teacher of English and physical education. She became full time librarian when CSHS was formed and has served in that capacity for the past three years. Before joining the Carl Sandburg staff, Miss Stigall taught in Henrietta, Mo., and Brimfield, Ill. In addition to a bachelor of science degree in education, she has three summers of work in library science.

Mrs. Willard Coulter, assistant librarian, teaches classes in freshman and sophomore English. She received a bachelor's degree from Southwest Missouri State and a master's from the University of Mississippi. Mrs. Coulter taught previously in Missouri and southern Illinois.

GUIDANCE DEPT.

The purpose of the guidance department at Carl Sandburg high school is to get to know each of the students as individuals. We are interested in the individual welfare of each and everyone of our boys and girls.

Each student at our school will have at least one interview with a counselor during the school year. The student may have several interviews if he so desires.

During our interview with a student, we find out his main interests and abilities. The next step is to explain to him his aptitude, interest, and achievement test scores. After discussing the student's interests and Ray Bentz, Dave Gibson abilities and evaluating his test scores, we have the necessary information to help the student decide on a future goal. In some cases the goal is preparation for college, in many cases it is preparation for a particular job after completion of high school.

After we have helped the student decide on a future goal that he appears to be best suited for, we then guide the student's school program so that he can achieve his goal. By rendering this service to the students, we feel that we will aid them in obtaining their maximum physical, emotional, social, and academic development.

Ray Bentz, the guidance director, is responsible for the administration of the testing program of the school; for providing the seniors with scholarship information, occupational information, and college information. Mr. Bentz also coordinates the activities of the four counselors in his department.

Mrs. Bimm is the counselor for the senior class; Miss Bardwick is junior class counselor; Mr. Devine is sophomore class counselor; and Mr. Addock is freshman class counselor.

Guidance services are always available to our students, and our counselors are prepared to discuss with students any problems that they may encounter.

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

On Friday, Nov. 9th Loyola university presented a panel group discussion on WGN-TV Learning Brings Adventure. Father Francis L. Filas, S. J. professor of Theology at Loyola, was the moderator which included Prof. John Wozniak of Loyola's Dept. of Education; Jack Donohue, a father and president of Loyola's Student Council; Miss Roseleen Perry, a night-school student at Lewis Towers; and Mrs. Virginia Leonhart, a mother and homemaker of Lincolnwood Hills, New Lenox. The topic "How Strict With The Children" was brought into open discussion by the display of several sketches depicting behaviorisms of children as well as parents natural dilemmas resulting from children's actions. Panelists agreed that firm disciplinary measures are necessary for children's character development though it is not a pleasant parental duty. Strictness coupled with love and affection is an essential, not only for the child's personality and well-being, but also as an effect on all as the child comes in contact with thruout his life.

Mrs. Leonhart confirmed the need of discipline directed at children in tantrums, thus training the child to control selfish emotions, but at the same time, Mrs. Leonhart added that parental action with one tantrum child was not necessarily the stock answer for all tantrums or for all children. Each child must be treated as a human individual, as he truly is, and what works with one child will not always be the solution for another. Jack Donohue stressed this was particularly to be noted within families where parents sometimes failed to recognize that family ties do not wipe out individualistic and varied traits. Another point on which Mrs. Leonhart commented was that orders were to come from legitimate authority—parents—not outsiders. Despite the latter's well-meant intentions, it only tends to confuse children as well as giving them the opportunity to play one side against the other. Mother and father should back-up each other on discipline administered.

The idea of corporal punishment brought forth some heated disagreement in the respect as to its being the last resort. All agreed that it was necessary and even asked for at some time or another, but the conclusion reached as to its being classified as a 'last resort' was made flexible by the statement that the parents must know the temperament of the child as well as the circumstances that called for such discipline; never corporal punishment just to display that parents have the upper-hand.

Consistency and reasonable commands were considered essential to diminish the need for continual enforced discipline as the child grows older, hence encouraging the child to exercise his own reasoning powers for right over wrong in order that when adulthood is reached, he is not willy-nilly when faced with decisive situations.

I am sure that he who began good work in you will bring it to completion at the day of Jesus Christ. (Philippians 1:6. N.S.V.)

Once a little girl taught her mother a wonderful lesson. Her mother had been a Christian for a long time, but something had gone wrong, and she was very unhappy.

Suddenly one day her mother was changed. Her eyes were smiling, and she was singing with joy all the day long; all because she had read something in the Bible. How happy they were!

But the day after, everything was gone; joy and smiles and songs, nothing was left of it all. No matter what the little girl did, her mother seemed unhappy.

The little girl went into the next room to bring the family Bible, and said: "This book says just the same things today, doesn't it, Mummy?"

Indeed, the many promises of God our Father are the same however the days are, whatever our feelings. Let us therefore have faith in God!

PRAYER

O God, our Father, we thank Thee for all Thy promises, which Thou hast given us as a rock on which to build our lives. Grant us faith to believe, and in believing find joy; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Business and Finance

Maurice P. Angland

The Suez canal seems remote to us, but the crisis there will likely have considerable effect on the price structures of some of our basic commodities and thereby the purchasing power of the dollar.

To gain some idea of the economic disruption being caused here are some figures showing the movement of certain commodities, and the percentage of the total movement which normally passes thru the canal.

Rubber, 69%; jute products, 33%; copra, 71%; coconut oil, 36%; raw jute, 67%; wool, 40%; palm oil, 23%.

Petroleum, of course, is one of the major commodities to pass through the canal. However, no percentage figure is available in the above connection. It bears noting that before the Suez canal seizure, the Middle Eastern governments were getting more than $1,000,000,000 a year directly from oil shipments and several hundred million dollars indirectly thru wages etc. Here are some statistics showing the amount of oil revenues received by particular governments and the percentage of the total. Kuwait, $189,000,000—97% of total revenues; Saudi Arabia, $258,100,000—71% of total revenues; Irak, $169,000,000—54% of total revenues; Iran, $98,000,000 40% of total revenues.

It is obvious from these figures that, in the long run, the Arab world is not likely to take any action that would prolong the opening of the canal.

In its entirety the output of oil from the Middle Eastern countries ordinarily totals about 36 million barrels daily, but this has now been cut about one third. As a reflection of this, European refinery operations have been cut back by about 30 percent and oil and gas rationing will begin in Britain on Dec. 17 and in Holland and Belgium shortly thereafter.

The closing of the canal has also intensified an oil tanker shortage. Evidence of the effect of the canal closing is had by the fact that our government opened bids to sell six tankers that were valued at $350,000 each in 1946. The sale was made at $2,300,000 each.

Prior to the Suez situation, there had been an inflationary trend in Europe with usual hoarding activities. This is naturally intensified with flight from European currencies to gold and the dollar.

Americans also buy in the international commodity markets. Any world price rise in basic materials adds to the costs of our manufacturers. The magazine Iron Age stated a few days ago, "Edgy steel buyers are taking no chances. They figure inventories are money in the bank regardless of whether peace is restored or fighting spreads."

A new financial crisis in Europe will require our aid and the pressure to give that aid will be heavy. Certainly we cannot reduce our own defense spending and the likelihood is that it will be increased.

The earlier tuberculosis is discovered and treated, the better the patient's chance for recovery, but 35 to 40 per cent of new cases are far advanced when first reported.

Science Museum Opens Series Of Yule Customs Around World

Organizations representing practically every segment of Chicago's immense Polish population joined yesterday, Nov. 28 at the Museum of Science and Industry, 57th Street and the lakefront, in a special program depicting Polish Christmas customs, folk songs and dances.

The program, which is one of the twenty featuring different nationalities in the museum's current 15th annual "Christmas Around the World" series, included four shows in the afternoon and evening. There was no admission charge.

In the afternoon, the two performances were, a play, "Christmas in Poland", presented by the students of Holy Family Academy, under the direction of Sister Theophane.

The two evening shows, featured a varied program of folk dances, holiday carols and pantomimed narrations of customs that have been traditional at Christmas time in Poland for centuries, and were produced by the Polish National Alliance Auxiliary, the Polish Women's Alliance, and the Polish Catholic Choral society. All participants were in authentic native costumes of the various Polish provinces from which they or their forebearers originally hailed.

Director of all activities was Miss Stephanie Gondek, Down-ers Grove.

Two other highlights of the day were a beautiful Christmas tree, trimmed in colorful Polish fashion by the members of Polonia, an organization comprised almost entirely of Polish "displaced persons"; and a dinner, open to the general public and that featured the kind of festive dishes served in Poland on holidays.

Prior to the Polish Christmas program, spectators were entertained by the 70 voice a cappella choir of Harper high school.

One of the organizations co-operating in presenting today's programs was the Polish Highlanders, represented by Andrew Rafacz, 151st and 88th ave., Orland Park.

KIRBY-McINTOSH UNIT

Tuesday evening, Nov. 13, parents of students in the Kirby-McIntosh school were invited to attend the first open house to be held in the school, sponsored by the newly formed Parent Teacher unit. The membership of this new unit now numbers 37.

Assistant superintendent of schools, Henry Hoppe was the speaker. He demonstrated the new movie projector which the board of education had purchased as the first step in the visual education program of the school.

Following are the teachers employed at the school: Mrs. Kathryn Vay, first and second grades; Miss Jeanne Thornton, third and fourth grades; and Glenn Hoffmeyer, fifth through eighth grades. Mrs. Robert Creighton, a former teacher, was also present.

December 1 is the date set for the bake sale which the PTA unit will sponsor in the Ben Franklin store in Tinley Park. The November sale was a successful first venture for this organization.

Mesdames R. O. Steckham, H. R. Jones and Thomas Groth, room mothers, are planning a Christmas party for the children.

The next PTA meeting will be Dec. 11.

MOKENA UNIT

The PTA of the Mokena public school met at 8 pm. Tuesday, Nov. 20 in the gymnasium. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved and reports from all the committees were heard. Mrs. Norval Robinson of the way and means committee reported that the candy has arrived and is being sold. The membership committee reported a total of 254 members thus far.

The children of Mokena collected $118.61 in the UNICEF drive in October. $100.61 collected by the Mokena public school and $18.00 collected by St. Mary school.

It was announced that the Christmas program by the children will be given Dec. 20, in the gym. There will be no regular business meeting in December. The PTA will give each preschool child a candy cane at the Christmas program, and each school age child will be served ice cream and cake at a Christmas party Friday, Dec. 21 by the PTA.

Mrs. Arthur Shoop, chairman, Mrs. Wesley Cappel and Glenn Miers were appointed to revise the by-laws of the PTA and the revision will be voted on at the January meeting.

Miss Roma Hiatt, reading consultant, presented a talk on how and why children are taught to read by phonics. Miss Hiatt pointed out the four dimensions of reading 1, perception of words, 2, imagery of words, 3, thoughtful reaction and 4, integration of ideas with previous experience. Miss Hiatt, also, pointed out the four levels of reading as 1, picture reading, 2, taking pictures, 3, conversation narrative and 4, straight narrative.

Refreshments were served by the sixth grade mothers and that grade won the room count award by 1%.

SCOUT NEWS

TOUR NIKE SITE

Orland Park Boy Scout troop 251 went on a 5-mile hike and a tour of the NIKE project, Saturday. Lt. Col. Fred L. Ross, commander of the project gave permission to tour Battery B-13th A.A.A. Battalion, which was commanded by Alfred L. Paul.

The Boy Scouts were met at the gate by Lt. Foster L. Oden who conducted the tour. Lt. Oden was a splendid speaker and had a pleasing way with the Scouts, as he too was a Scout when he was a boy. He took the boys to the mess hall where they were served hot cocoa and army cake and then were loaded on a covered truck, and driven to the firing site. The 12 scouts with the scout master, Joseph Kaiser were: Jack Higgins, Jerry Zinn, Ralph Doyle, Bob Kaiser, Roger Brown, Richard Morris, William Gorney, Charles Halvorson, Mark Bader, Edward Schweiger, Jimmy Yunker and Tom Scheber.

Living Costs Show Increase In Suburbs

The cost of living in Chicago suburbs set a record in Oct., the U. S. department of labor's bureau of labor statistics said Monday.

It increase 0.7 per cent from September to October.

Adolph O. Berger, the bureau's Chicago regional director, said that the consumer price index, which measures living costs, hit 121.1 in October (1947-49 averages equal 100.)

The previous record index for the Chicago area was 120.5 in July.

Berger said that food, reading and recreation costs were the only items that edged down from September to October. They were 0.1 per cent lower.

Living costs that advanced from September to October:

Transportation, 4.6 per cent; medical care, 0.9; apparel, 0.4; housing, 0.2; personal care, 0.1; and other goods and services, 1.1.

Berger said that the index, as compared with a year ago, had risen 1.8 per cent.

The sharpest increase in the year was 7.2 per cent for medical care, he explained.
